THE NATIONAL SHRINE OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

Washington, D.C.

The beautiful National Shrine viewed through a graceful arch of nearby McMahon Hall. On the Dome, in colorful tile can be seen the five symbols of Our Lady, The Fleur de lys, The Tower of Ivory, The Cedar of Lebanon, The Star of The Sea and Ave Maria represented by the ancient Marian symbol intertwined A and M. The guided tours which take about 45 minutes describe this and other points of interest. The Shrine is open to the public every day of the week, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.
